Method of Operation

The Ian Dickie Combination Jetting/Vacuum machines are able to Jet pipes clean using the relevant nozzle or chain flail to clear the line and return the debris back to the manhole. The High Volume Vacuum then lifts and stores the debris in the vacuum sludge tank until full. On clearing the blockage the truck can then drive to the discharge site and deposit the load.

Ian Dickie also build dedicated Vacuum Trucks (viz.left) which are used extensively throughout Southern Africa to clear septic tanks, cesspits and portable or municipal toilets.
